

Out-of-district obligations

Under the category of Other Commitments, In$ite captures three types of district financial obligations that do not directly benefit the district's current students: 1. Retiree benefits - health care, life insurance, etc. 2. The outplacement of students with disabilities, in private residential or day programs. 3. The costs incurred by students who attend private, parochial, or charter schools. Rhode Island law mandates that these students receive transportation - on a regional basis - as well as textbooks and certain nursing services.

All dollar figures are expressed as per pupil expenditures.
